Audition with The Spectrum Singers to perform choral music from the pre-Renaissance through the present day in a broad range of music styles.

John W. Ehrlich, Music Director
ABOUT US

The Spectrum Singers is an acclaimed Boston-area chorus that performs works from all periods of music history—pre-Renaissance through the present day—at a high level of professionalism.

Music Director John W. Ehrlich formed the ensemble in 1980 and continues to lead the group of 30–40 singers in concerts at the First Church Congregational in Harvard Square.

People from all walks of life sing with the chorus, many bringing significant experience and skills as choral and solo vocal artists.
